37 CFR §1.182 PETITION

Dear Sir:

Responsive to the Office NOTICE OF INCOMPLETE NONPROVISIONAL APPLICATION of August 4, 2003, Applicant respectfully requests the Commissioner's reconsideration of the deficiencies stated in the NOTICE and a return of Applicant's 37 CFR §1.17(h) Petition Fee.

THE ISSUES

The subject Office NOTICE of August 4, 2004 alleges that the subject application was deposited without drawings. For applicant to receive the filing date of deposit, Applicant is required to submit a newly executed oath.

Applicant respectfully traverses the allegation of drawing omission and the the requirement for a new oath.

FACTS AND ARGUMENT.

As evidenced by Exhibit A, PTO/SB/05 UTILITY PATENT APPLICATION TRANSMITTAL, the subject patent application was filed on January 21, 2004 as a CONTINUATION of application Serial No. 09/949,990 filed November 21, 2003. The application specification was filed with two sheets of drawings (Exhibit D), an Application Data Sheet (Exhibit C), a copy of the Inventor Declaration from the parent application Ser. No. 09/949,990 (Exhibit B), a preliminary amendment and an Information Disclosure Statement. As shown by the Return Receipt Postcard (Exhibit E) bearing the PTO label and application serial number, the Information Disclosure Statement included 21 patent documents. The Application Data Sheet (Exhibit C) further states the presence of 2 drawing sheets and the domestic priority relationship of Continuation of application Ser. No. 09/949,990. Similarly, the Return Receipt Postcard (Exhibit E) also declares the presence of 2 drawing sheets in the application assembly.

Filed herewith are additional copies of the drawings as filed January 21, 2004 except for identification label applied in the upper margin. Also filed herewith is a copy of the original inventor Declaration except for the identification label applied in the upper margin.

The subject application was filed in strict accord with the provisions of 37 CFR §1.53(b). 37 CFR § 1.63 expressly permits a continuation application to be filed with a copy of the declaration filed in the parent application as occurred in the present case.

In view of the fact that the subject application is a Continuation Application of a then pending parent application, and that the drawings originally filed and those substituted herewith are identical with those of the parent application, there is absolutely no opportunity for the introduction of new matter. In like manner, the substitute Declaration of the Sole Inventor submitted herewith is the exact copy of the original submitted with the parent application.

It may be further noted that a Divisional Application of Parent Application No. 09/949,990, was filed on February 20, 2004 as Ser. No. 10/783,288. The said Divisional Application was filed during the pendency of the parent application and includes the identical 2 sheets of drawings and inventor declaration as submitted with the subject application.

CONCLUSION

Multiple documents filed with the subject application attest to the presence of the required drawings when the specification was filed. 37 CFR §1.63 specifically permits Applicant's to file a continuation application with a copy of the original declaration. Due to the large number of documents filed with the subject Continuation application, it is understandable that Patent Office personnel may have overlooked the presence of drawings. In any case, however, the failure of the Office to find drawings in the application that were carefully noted as present with the application as filed, cannot be attributed to Applicant.

Accordingly, Applicant respectfully request official entry of the January 21, 2004 filing date of this application and return of 37 CFR §1.17(h) Petition Fee necessitated by an Office error.
